representing about all of the best horse owners, while a perfect day helped to draw a large attendance. The opening can easily be called Alfred Vanderbilt day, for the entries which came from the stables at Oakland Farm carried off five first prizes, two seconds and three thirds, while in one class all three prizes went to the Vanderbilt horses. Mr. Vanderbilt's winnings were swelled in a large measure by his new English pair, Queen Favour and Queen's Maid, which he purchased abroad early this summer and were exhibited for the first time in America to-day. This pair were easy wingers, especially Queen's Favour, one of the handsomest horses ever exhibited in the Newport show.

Mr. Vanderbilt was also helped out by his English pony pair, Mel Valley Wonder and Mel Valley Wonderful, which he brought over last year.

C. W. Watson of Baltimore was his closest competitor. The Fairmount Farm horses

C. W. Watson of Baltimore was his closest competitor, the Fairmount Farm horses taking three firsts, three thirds and three fourths, while the entries of Reginald Vanderbitt captured only two prizes, a first and second.

She opened up a lead of a length and was flying over the ground. Dugan kept King James under a pull in the run to the head of the stretch, where he let Hildreth's great horse down, with the result that King's Daughter was quickly overhauled. But Jack Atkin, now under full headway, was going great guns and once in the homestretch he showed a tremendous turn of speed. He had made a remendous turn of speed.

This is a new Amer-ican record, beating the old one of 35 feet 3 inches by J. Cosgrove fourteen years ago. Lunghi, the Italian runner, covered 700 doesn't supplant the mark of 1 minute 31 time during the progress of a half mile race in which he did I minute 56 seconds. Eller of the Irish A. A. He had made up much of the ground iost at the post and as soon as Butwell put him under the whip he began to overhaul the pace makers in such a way that the crowd went wild with excitement.

King James, however, had a safe lead meanwhite and when he passed the last sixteenth pole Dugan looked back with cool confidence. The little jockey did not ease up, however, until he was within twenty yards of the wire, where King James won by two lengths in the wonderfully fast time of 1:37 4-5, a new record for the race, a fifth of a second slower than Priscillian's track record and within two-fifths of a second of the world's record held jointly by Dick welles, and Kiamesha for a circular track. CYCLISTS IN HOT FIGHT. Clarke and Kramer Refuse to Follow Field in Championship.

Jack C. Clarke, the Australian, and Frank L. Kramer, the American, added a new turn to the hot fight between them for the American national cycle championthe American national cycle championship yesterday at the Valodrome by refusing to follow the field in the first five mile championship race and then retiring from the race after riding only three laps. The dispute between the two stars was over which one would set the pace for the other, and both moved off at a snail's pace from the pistol. When the rest of the field had ridden two miles and two laps Clarke and Kramer had covered but three laps. Referee Kelsey thereupon ordered them off the track and imposed a fine of $25 on each. Clarke is leading Kramer in the points table by 4 points, 31 to 27. Clarke earlier in the afternoon defeated Kramer by a margin of six inches in the greatest race ever seen at Newark. After the flasco the track management announced that there would only be three more championships, the final on the first Surday in October.

Fully 25,000 persons crowded into the fair grounds at Dongan Hills yesterday afternoon, which was a record breaking afternoon, which was a record breaking holiday crowd. There were three good races on the programme, one trotting, one pacing and one six furlongs running race, interspersed with the usual balloon ascensions, looping the loop, automobile and acrobatic feats.

The 235 trot had eight starters. First Demand, an old Speedway favorite, made a break and was distanced in the first heat. Peter B., driven by Frank Small, won the race in straight heats, with J. H. Phillips's chestnut gelding Borl Wilkes a good accound in each heat. The best time was 2:22%. The 2:15 pacing race also went in straight heats and was won by E. D. Hollenbeck's black gelding Bell Vara Boy. J. H. Phillips's Borelli finished second in the first and third heats and took second money. The best time was 2:18%, made in the second heat. The summary:

Excellent sport marked the final day of the annual race week of the Atlantic Yacht Club on Gravesend Bay yesterday. The event was the forty-third annual regatta of the club and was open to all first division to fill, and brought to the schooners Eclipse, Tammany and Sham-

The big fellows went over a twenty-six mile course, which took them from the starting line in Gravesend Bay to and around both Scotland light vessel, the spar and bell buoy off Sandy Hook and back to the finish line. The wind was light and from the southwest at the start, but freshened considerably as the race progressed. It was a beat to windward all the way to the Hook and a run home. Shamrock and Tammany had a glorious race and finished within nine seconds of each other. Tammany was the first across the line and won handlily on corrected time. The smaller classes also, went over outside courses. Vivian II. won on corrected time among the sloops and yawls of classes L. M and N. The craft also won a special prize offered by Vice-Commodore J. D. Probst for making the best corrected time over the twenty-six mile course. Soya was the winner in class Q and Peri II. led home the P boats.

succession, but Winsome surprised the talent by beating Istalena. Another sur-prise was sprung in the New York 30 foot class by Nepsi, which beat four of the best racers. Nepsi was sailed by Raiph N. The yachts were sent of on a bread reach up the Sound; then they beat across, and came home on another broad reach. The 65 foot sloops made a very pretty start each being on practically even terms with the other. Aurora and Istalena, however, soon drew away from Winsome. Before reaching the first mark these two got into a luffing match and went far to the southward of their course. Winsome mean-while went straight for the mark, and when Duncan, Jr., led around the mark. Istalens, which was close on her heels during the

which was close on her heels during the uffing match, for some unaccountable reason had fallen sadly behind. The first round was finished as follows: Aurors, 1.39.22: Winsome, 1.34.22: Istalena, 1.35.20. The second round was a procession in the same order and Aurora steadily improved her advantage. She beat Winsome nearly seven and Istalena nearly nine minutes. Gardenia and Dorwina had a capital race. The former got the lead soon after the start and held it throughout, but she could not leave the latter very far astern.

Edmee, in the O'class, gavea third surprise by beating both Princess and Capsicum, as well as Eleanor. It was Capsicum, as well as Eleanor.
